

taco john's allergen chart

SINCE 1969

This allergen list includes the eight major food allergens identified by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA): eggs, milk, peanuts, fish, shellfish, soy, tree nuts and wheat. Since soybean oil is highly refined, which removes the allergenic soy protein, the FDA does not require foods that contain soybean oil to be listed as a soy allergen. Although soy lecithin is refined oil, research has shown it may contain trace amounts of soy protein. For this reason, items that contain soy lecithin are marked as containing "soybeans."

When checking for allergens, it is important to note that a menu item may come in contact with an allergen from other menu items due to shared equipment and preparation areas. For example, Potato Olés® are fried in the same fryer and oil as Crunchy Chicken and Churros. There is no guarantee that cross-contact with other allergens will not occur.
